VIDEO ART CALL

SUSTAINABLE VIEWS

punti di vista differenziati

I. INTRODUCTION

The call is addressed to Italian and International artists involved in video making, who want to propose a creative view in terms of environmental sustainability and responsible recycling.

The contest is the result of cooperation between different companies and organisations from Turin, Biella and Barcelona - Ok Bio, Collettivo IF, Cittadellarte - Fondazione Pistoletto, PAV - Parco Arte Vivente, Espronceda - Institute of Art & Culture - and patronized by Albertina Academy of Fine Arts of Turin. It is promoted by Ok Bio, a company from Biella, during the event "Dove lo getto? - Quello che devi sapere sul monouso compostabile e il riciclaggio".

Project promoters:

Ok Bio: a new brand focused on disposable compostable products for the catering industry, in line with the new European policies regarding single-use plastics.

Collettivo IF: an association that focuses on the study, the planning, the curatorship and the set-up of artistic exhibitions, shows and cultural-artistic activities with the aim to inform people on environmental and social subjects and create awareness in an innovative way.

Cittadellarte - Fondazione Pistoletto: an artistic and cultural institution focused on the study, the experimentation and the development of practices for responsible social transformation through the direct interaction with art.

PAV - Parco Arte Vivente: an experimental centre of contemporary art, a meeting place that offers workshops focused on the communication between art and nature, biotechnologies and ecology, audience and artists.

Accademia Albertina: an historic Art Academy in Turin that offers new technologies and art classes, and enhance the artistic heritage.

Espronceda - Institute of Art & Culture: an innovative centre of contemporary artistic production founded in Barcelona in 2013. Espronceda offers an international and multidisciplinary environment for artists, curators and anyone who believes in the importance of arts, culture and education. The centre promotes prominent and budding artists and it helps them in the development of their projects and creativity, spreading the inspiration beyond their permanence in Espronceda.

The winning works will be exhibited during the event, promoted by Ok Bio, taking place on 9th May 2020 in Cittadellarte - Fondazione Pistoletto.

2. FOCUS - contest goals

The contest is addressed to video artists. The goal of the contest is to enhance the artistic production in video making, by using new technologies as new creative ways to raise awareness in terms of environmental sustainability.

The contest focuses on environmental sustainability.

The aim is to provide ideas for a sustainable lifestyle through the video-documentation of solutions already in place, or to approach the issues of environmental sustainability (including recycling and waste disposal) with a proactive, utopic and positive view, in order to stimulate reflection on climate change.

3. HOW TO PARTICIPATE

The contest is addressed both to individual artists and to collectives.

If collectives or groups made up of several artists wish to apply, a single contact person must be specified in the Application form (Attachment A).

Each artist/group of artists can submit one single video.
